Mayor
City of Garden Grove
PO Box 3070
Garden Grove, CA 92842-3070

Dear Mayor Jones,

Great news! California's college savings plan, ScholarShare 529, has launched its Children's Savings Account (CSA) platform specifically designed to support local governments and non-profit organizations interested in establishing a local CSA program of their own.

With Governor Newsom dedicating $25 million to new and existing local CSA programs through the Child Savings Account Grant Program and another $25 million to ScholarShare 529 for purposes of funding CSAs statewide, we have a unique opportunity to work together to ensure that parents and children across California reach their higher education goals. Studies show that even children who have less than $500 set aside for college are three times more likely to enroll in college and nearly four times more likely to graduate than children with no savings.

Fortunately, ScholarShare 529 has a team that can help you get started on the development of your local CSA program and an innovative platform that can help you greatly reduce the administrative burden. ScholarShare 529's CSA platform offers leading-edge technology that allows for the easy and secure import of child data, application of additional contributions and incentives, direct interaction with parents, data reporting, and seamless integration with ScholarShare 529 accounts.

Since 1999, ScholarShare 529 has been one of the most respected asset-building programs with over $9.6 billion in assets, nearly 330,000 accounts, and over $3 billion distributed to date to fund higher education. This year, the plan marked its 20-year anniversary by receiving a Gold Morningstar Analyst rating, placing it at a level only shared with three other programs in the country.

To learn more about ScholarShare 529's CSA platform or to register for a webinar co-sponsored with the California Asset Building Coalition, please visit ScholarShare529.com/CSA or contact ScholarShare 529 directly at scholarshare@treasurer.ca.gov or (916) 651-6380. For information about Governor Newsom's Child Savings Account Grant Program, including how your organization may apply for a grant, visit <https://www.csac.ca.gov/child-savings-account-grant-program>.

Together, we can make a huge difference for California's children. I am grateful to work with you on behalf of our state's families.

In Peace and Friendship,

Memorandum

DATE: December 11, 2019

TO: Member Agencies – MWDOC Divisions Two & Three

FROM: Larry Dick, Director – Division Two Bob McVicker, Director – Division Three

SUBJECT: Monthly Water Usage Data, Tier 2 Projection & Water Supply Information

The attached figures show the recent trend of water consumption in Orange County (OC), an estimate of Imported Water Sales for MWDOC, and selected water supply information.

- OC Water Usage, Monthly by Supply OCWD Groundwater was the main supply in October.
- OC Water Usage, Monthly, Comparison to Previous Years Water usage in October 2019 was slightly above average compared to the last 5 years. We are projecting a slight increase in overall water usage compared to FY 2018-19. It has been 32 months since all mandatory water restrictions were lifted by the California State Water Resources Control Board.
- Historical OC Water Consumption Orange County M & I water consumption is estimated to be 527,000 AF in FY 2019-20 (this includes ~15 TAF of agricultural usage and non-retail water agency usage). This is about 11,000 AF more than FY 2018-19 and is about 13,000 AF less than FY 2017-18. Water usage per person is projected to be slightly higher in FY 2018-19 for Orange County at 144 gallons per day (This includes recycled water). Although OC population has increased 20% over the past two decades, water usage has not increased, on average. A long-term decrease in per-capita water usage is attributed mostly to Water Use Efficiency (water conservation) efforts. O.C. Water Usage for the last four Fiscal Years is the lowest since the 1982-83 Fiscal Year (FY 1982-83 was the third wettest year on record).

Water Supply Information Includes data on Rainfall in OC; the OCWD Basin overdraft; Northern California and Colorado River Basin hydrologic data; the State Water Project (SWP) Allocation, and regional storage volumes. The data have implications for the magnitude of supplies from the three watersheds that are the principal sources of water for OC. Note that a hydrologic year is Oct. 1st through Sept. 30th.

- Orange County's accumulated precipitation through late November was above average for this period. Water year to date rainfall in Orange County is 2.20 inches, which is 129% of normal.
- Northern California accumulated precipitation through early December was 54% of normal for this period. Water Year 2019 was 137% of normal while water year 2018 was 82% of normal. The Northern California snowpack was 76% of normal as of December 2nd. As of late November, 3.31% of California is experiencing moderate drought conditions while 90.78% of the state is experiencing abnormally dry conditions. The State Water Project Contractors Table A Allocation was increased to 75% in June 2019 (The Initial Table A Allocation for 2020 has not been set)
- Colorado River Basin accumulated precipitation through late November was 81% of normal for this period. The Upper Colorado Basin snowpack was 100% of normal as of December 2nd. Lake Mead and Lake Powell combined have about 65% of their average storage volume for this time of year and are at 46.2% of their total capacity. If Lake Mead's level falls below a "trigger" limit 1,075 ft. at the end of a calendar year, then a shortage will be declared by the US Bureau of Reclamation (USBR), impacting Colorado River water deliveries to the Lower Basin states. As of early December, Lake Mead levels were 8.14' above the "trigger" limit. The USBR predicts that the start of 2019 will not hit the "trigger" level but there is a 0% chance that the trigger level will be hit in 2020 and a 4% chance in 2021.

Fig. 1 OC Water Usage, Monthly by Supply with projection to end of fiscal year

[1] Imported water for consumptive use. Includes "In-Lieu" deliveries and CUP water extraction. Excludes "Direct Replenishment" deliveries of spreading water and deliveries into Irvine Lake.
 [2] GW for consumptive use only. Excludes In-Lieu water deliveries and CUP water extraction that are counted with Import. BPP in FY '19-20 is 77%.
 [3] MWD OC's estimate of monthly demand is based on the projected 5 Year historical retail water demand and historical monthly demand patterns.
 [4] Total water usage includes IRWD groundwater agricultural use and usage by non-retail water agencies.

Fig. 2 OC Monthly Water Usage [1]: Comparison to Last 4 Fiscal Years

Partial Year Subtotals

[1] Sum of Imported water for consumptive use (includes "In-Lieu" deliveries; excludes "Direct Replenishment" and "Barrier Replenishment") and Local water for consumptive use (includes recycled and non-potable water and excludes GWRS production) Recent months numbers include some estimation.

HOUSING GRADES

By NIKIE JOHNSON and JEFF GOERTZEN | Southern California News Group

Every city and county in California is required to plan for adequate housing across income levels, but actually building those homes is largely a goal rather than a requirement. The Southern California News Group has graded every jurisdiction in the state on how well they're doing at meeting those goals.

OC Register
12-08-19
1 of 2

Making the grades

Cities and counties in California are given goals for how much housing they need to add that would be affordable to residents in four income categories: very low income, low income, moderate income and above moderate income.

SCNG's grades are based on how close each jurisdiction is to being on track to meeting those goals, depending on how far it is into its current Regional Housing Needs Assessment, or RHNA, cycle. They're supposed to file progress reports annually to the California Department of Housing and Community Development, so the latest data available is through 2018.

Most of Southern California is in a RHNA cycle that runs from late 2013 to late 2021. A city that is supposed to permit 80 low-income homes by 2021 would need to have issued at least 50 permits by 2018 to be fully on track. If it had issued 25, it would be 50% on track.

Grades for each category

- 100% or better on track = A grade / 4 points
- 75-99% on track = B grade / 3 points
- 50-74% on track = C grade / 2 points
- 1-49% on track = D grade / 1 point
- 0 units built = F grade / 0 points
- Not required to permit any in that category = Won't be included in average (applies to a handful of cities in the higher-income housing categories)

Bonus points

Extra credit could be earned for showing improvement, prioritizing what's needed most and degree of difficulty:

- Jurisdictions that weren't fully on track in a category, but improved their score by at least 25 percentage points from 2017, got a half-point bonus.
- Jurisdictions got a 1-point bonus for being at least 90% on track in each of the lower-income categories, and a half-point bonus for being at least 90% on track in the moderate category.
- Jurisdictions asked to increase their housing stock by at least 10% over their 2013 levels could get a half-point bonus for being at least 50% on track and a full point for

Overall grade

The overall grade comes from adding up the category scores and bonus points, then dividing by the number of categories (not always four; a few weren't asked to permit any homes at higher income levels). The grade-point averages correspond to these letter grades:

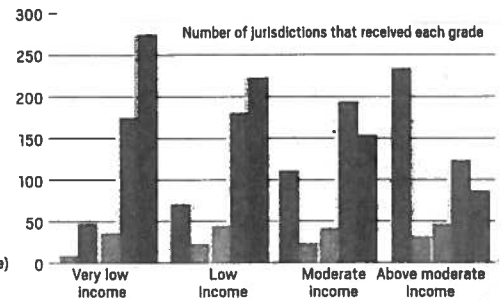

- A+ = 4.33 or higher
- A = 4-4.32
- A- = 3.67-3.99
- B+ = 3.33-3.66
- B = 3-3.32
- B- = 2.67-2.99
- C+ = 2.33-2.66
- C = 2-2.32
- C- = 1.67-1.99
- D+ = 1.33-1.66
- D = 1-1.32
- D- = 0.67-0.99
- F = below 0.67

Uneven progress

Statewide, many cities and counties are falling to permit lower-income housing but are doing much better with housing that wealthy people can afford.

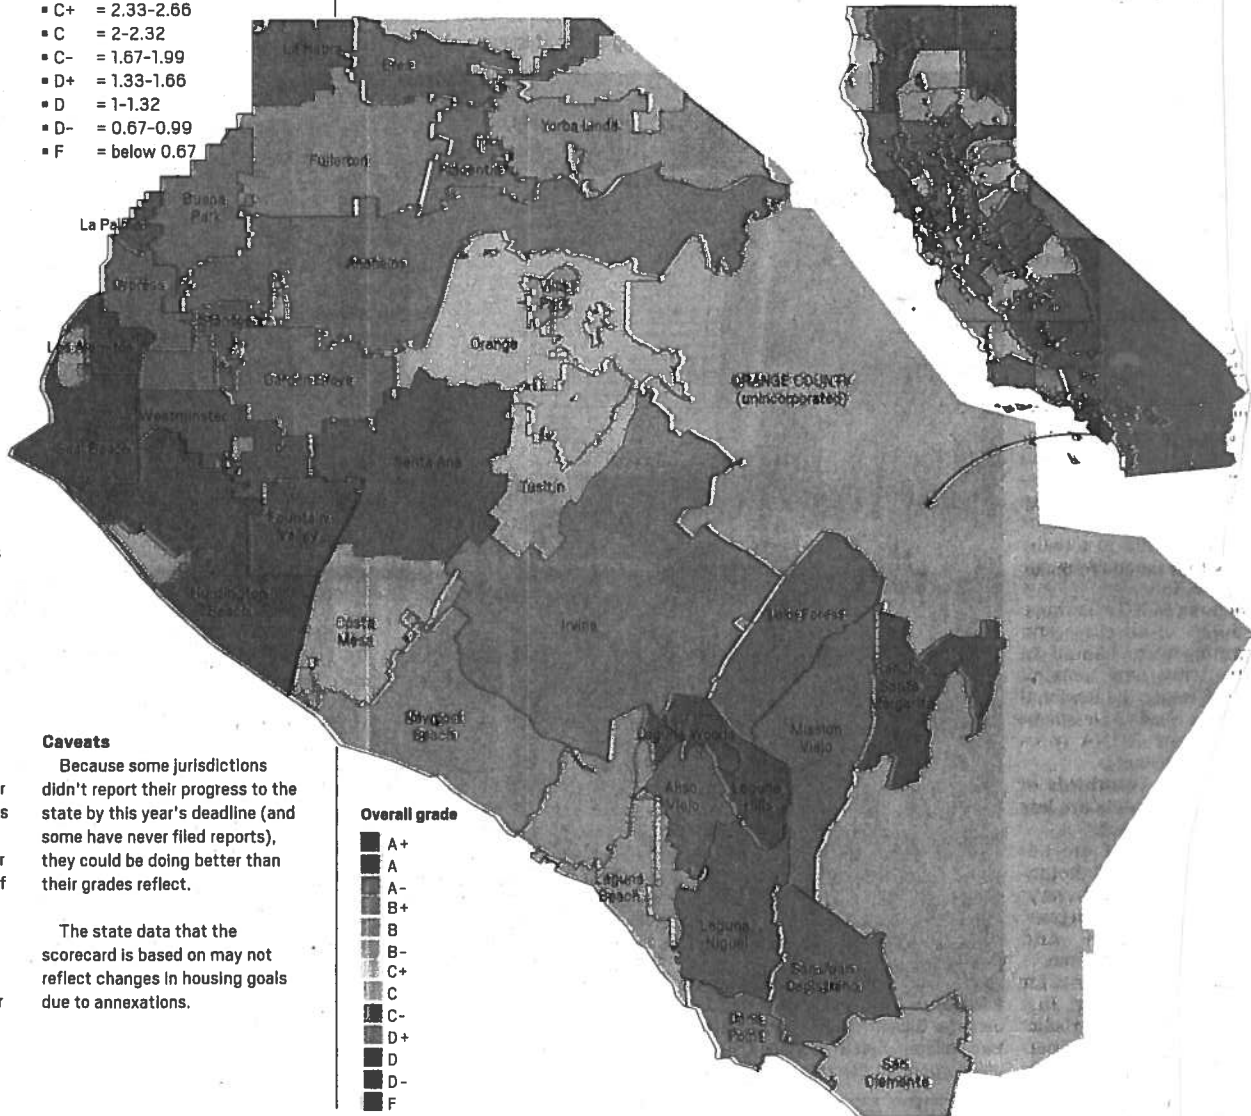

■ A ■ B ■ C ■ D ■ F

Very low income (0-50% of area median income)
Low income (51-80% of area median income)
Moderate income (81-120% of area median income)
Above moderate income (120+% of area median income)

Caveats

Because some jurisdictions didn't report their progress to the state by this year's deadline (and some have never filed reports), they could be doing better than their grades reflect.

The state data that the scorecard is based on may not reflect changes in housing goals due to annexations.

Climate Resiliency Projects Grants Available to Public Agencies

December 9, 2019

The California Resilience Challenge (CRC), an initiative of the Bay Area Council Foundation, recently launched a request for proposals (RFP) to offer $2 million in funding for local governments to support innovative projects that address climate change-related threats and help safeguard the state against wildfire, drought, flood and extreme heat events.

Recipients, including cities, counties, and special districts, will receive grant awards of up to $200,000 for climate adaptation planning projects. The sources of this grant fund include businesses, utilities, nongovernmental organizations and foundations.

CRC is looking for projects that support climate resilience planning projects, with a preference for projects that will lead to implementation of resiliency infrastructure. The RFP is available online.

The deadline to submit an RFP is Feb. 7 at 5 p.m. and grants are anticipated to be awarded in April 2020.

If you have questions about the RFP or what projects are eligible, please email Adrian Covert.

California Water Board Issues New Guidance and FAQ on SB 205 Implementation

December 9, 2019

Earlier this year, SB 205 (Hertzberg, Chapter 470, 2019), was signed into law and requires certain regulated business entities to demonstrate enrollment with stormwater permits before cities and counties issue or renew a local business license.

In response to SB 205, the California State Water Resources Control Board (SWRCB) recently issued background information and FAQs on how cities and counties can comply with this new law.

Background – What does this law require?

SB 205 requires that cities and counties confirm on the business license (either new or renewal application) that a regulated industrial business has a form of National Pollutant Discharge Elimination System (NPDES) permit coverage for discharges of stormwater.

In order to confirm that a regulated business has NPDES permit coverage, during the initial business license or renewal application, cities and counties must require an industrial business to provide the name(s) and location(s) of all facilities operated by the business, all corresponding primary Standard Industrial Classification (SIC) codes and one of the following for each facility operated by the business:

- Stormwater permit number, known as the Waste Discharger Identification number (WDID), issued for the facility by the State Water Board
- WDID application number issued for the facility by the State Water Board
- Notice of Non-Applicability (NONA) identification number issued for the facility by the State Water Board
- No Exposure Certification (NEC) identification number issued for the facility by the State Water Board

Additionally, SB 205 does not require cities or counties to determine or provide the SIC code of a facility. Finding the SIC code is the business' responsibility. However, cities and counties are responsible for determining whether the primary SIC code(s) that the business provides for the facility are applicable to the Industrial General Permit (IGP). If the SIC code(s) is applicable, the city or county must ensure that the business provides the required information.

Who does this law affect?

SB 205 only applies to cities who issue business licenses. If you are a city that does not issue business licenses, then you do not need to take any action.

Furthermore, SB 205 does not apply to all businesses. It only applies to those businesses with primary SIC codes that are identified in or are applicable to the general NPDES permit for storm water discharges associated with industrial activities (excluding construction activities), also known as the Stormwater Industrial General Permits.
